PREPARING FOR ELKS' CONVENTION.

BUSINESS HOUSES WILL GENERALLY DECORATE AND VIE WITH ONE ANOTHER IN WELCOMING DELEGATES APRIL 6 AND 7.

Tuesday, April 5 Elks from all over the State will begin pouring into Daytona for the State Convention, which will be in session here for two days.

Business houses are preparing to decorate in purple and white for the occasion and members of Daytona Lodge are planning on making the coming convention one of the most successful ever held.

All local Elks possessing automobiles are requested to meet the visitors at the railroad station and escort them to headquarters or hotels. Such owners of automobiles are requested to communicate with Geo. F. Crouch, secretary, so that it may be known how many cars are available.

Wednesday afternoon the visitors will be treated to an automobile ride to picturesque New Smyrna, with an oyster bake at the famous Rose Bay oyster beds on the return. The same evening the visitors will be invited to the Crystal Theater by Manager Fitts, after which the local Elks will keep open house.

Thursday morning another automobile ride is planned, and Thursday a ball will be tendered at the Hotel Desland. Other amusements will be provided, and the business sessions of the convention will be held when there is nothing else to do.

Mayor Greene has the big wooden bay to the city ready to turn over and the police force has been provided with smoked glasses. All local Elks are requested to provide themselves with balancing weights so as to keep their equilibrium and guide the visitors in their zigzag walks.

SOMETHING OF INTEREST TO THE TRAVELING PUBLIC.

The New York and Florida Special over Atlantic Coast Line, will make its last trip for the season from Jacksonville, April 6th, the last train leaving Jacksonville at 1:10 P. M., of that day.

This still leaves three trains a day over the Atlantic Coast Line for Eastern points, leaving Jacksonville as follows: No. 86 at 7:30 A. M.; No. 82 at 8:50 A. M.; and No. 80 at 7:45 P. M. Train No. 86, leaving Daytona at 9:15 a. m., for Jacksonville, will be discontinued, the last train leaving here Sunday, April 2nd.

PEOPLE FLEEING IN PANIC.

STREAM OF LAVA FROM MT. AETNA THREATENS TO ENGULF CITY OF CATANIA, SICILY.

CATANIA, Sicily, March 30—People are fleeing in panic today fearing that the huge lava stream that is approaching slowly from the crater of Mount Aetna will engulf the city. It is hoped that the formation of the land will prevent this catastrophe.

Asbes from the mountain twenty miles away lay six inches deep in the street. Fresh craters are appearing daily and it is now estimated that there are thirty.

PERSONAL FRIEND AND COMPANION IN ARMS.

Major J. C. Alderson and wife, of Charleston, W. Va., who have been sojourning on the peninsula for a couple of weeks, were passengers for St. Augustine, aboard the steamer, Republic yesterday, enroute home. Major Alderson, who is an old friend of Senator John W. Daniel, is also a Confederate veteran, and plainsman, having spent several years in the West after the close of the war. The Major is a typical Southern gentleman, courtly in bearing and pleasing and affable in manner. He spoke with much feeling of Senator Daniel and affection and esteem in which he was held, not only in the South but throughout the whole country. Although some years the Senator's senior, Major Alderson is still hale and hearty and steps off like a young man.

FRIENDS HERE LOOK FORWARD TO THEIR RETURN.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilman Davis and son, Harold, of Oswego, N. Y., who have been located on Volusia avenue during the winter, departed Tuesday afternoon, in company with other members of the party with whom they came south. These pleasant people have made many friends while here.

Mr. Davis, who owns and conducts a large livery and sales stable at Oswego, is one of those sunny dispositioned individuals whom it is a pleasure to meet and with whom one feels immediately at home. They go to St. Augustine for the celebration and also stop at Jacksonville and other points, reaching Oswego about the first of May.

TRIAL OF A WHITE SLAVE CASE.

NEWARK, N. J., March 30—A case of alleged white slavery came up in the Quarter Sessions Court today, when Theodore Brown, his wife, Rosa Brown, and Edward Snyder were arraigned for trial on the charge of having placed Yetta Schwartz, a sixteen year old girl, in white slavery. According to the indictment, the accused took the girl from this city to New York last January and placed her in an alleged disorderly house.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. H. White entertained in honor of their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Rollin H. White, of Cleveland, Ohio, Monday evening, at their home on South Beach street.

JOHN KLEIN COMMENCES SENTENCE.

FORMER PITTSBURG COUNCILMAN TODAY BEGINS HIS TERM OF THREE AND ONE-HALF YEARS.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 30—John Klein, the former common councilman, whose confession caused the present graft probe, today began his sentence of three and one-half years in the Western Penitentiary.

The grand jury is continuing its investigations today, and examining employees of the express company which it is alleged transferred $45,000 bribe money, paid by the banks, to representatives of the councilmen in a New York hotel.

IS VERY ENTHUSIASTIC OVER THIS VICINITY.

EDITOR'S WIFE SOJOURNING HERE, FEARS HER FRIENDS IN THE NORTH WILL THINK SHE IS ROMANCING.

Mrs. G. A. V. Hankinson, wife of the editor and proprietor of the Westfield Leader, of Westfield, N. J., who is visiting with friends on Peninsula Drive, Daytona Beach, is very much enthused over the beauty and attractiveness of this section of Florida, and, fearful that her friends in the North may think that she has been over rating its charms in her letters, has asked the Daily News management to forward to the Leader such description of Daytona and Daytona Beach, as may be at hand to substantiate her claims.

Mrs. Hankinson has been much benefitted by her sojourn here and therefore might be excused for seeing Daytona with a favored eye, but her views of its more than unusual attractiveness are fully borne out by the testimony of all visitors who have seen other parts of the State, and in fact, places of noted beauty a over the world.

Mrs. Hankinson expects to leave for St. Augustine by boat tomorrow, on her return north. She will be accompanied to the Ancient City by her friend, Mrs. Edmund Cole, also of Westfield, who, with her sister, Mrs. P. M. Conaway, is stopping at the Howard, in this city.

McCabe, chairman of the library department of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs; Miss Minnie Leatherman, secretary of the North Carolina library commission, and Dr. Thomas M. Owen, director of the department of archives and history of Alabama. The meeting will conclude its business tomorrow.

SENATOR'S CONDITION STATIONARY.

NO IMPROVEMENT IN SENATOR JOHN W. DANIEL'S CONDITION FOR PAST THREE DAYS.

Dr. W. C. Chowning stated last night that Senator Daniel's condition was not as satisfactory as two days ago, there having been a complete rest of improvement during the last forty-eight hours.

This morning Doctors Chowning and Bohannon issued the following bulletin:

"Senator Daniel slept soundly most of last night and is still sluggish this morning although he can be aroused to reply to a question plainly put. Nourishment, pulse, temperature and elimination continue satisfactory."

NEW SCHOOL BUILDING WILL SOON BE DONE.

DAYTONA'S HANDSOME NEW PUBLIC SCHOOL BUILDING DRAWING NEAR COMPLETION.

The finishing coat of cement has been placed on the second floor walls, also the auditorium of the new school building, and a large force of carpenters are at work on the interior finish of the big hall. The windows are all placed and the railing for the gallery is being put on. The auditorium is already showing up handsomely, and it will make an assembly hall when completed second to none in a city of this size in the State. The acoustics have been carefully studied. There is yet much work to be done on the auditorium, but it is promised in time for the commencement, and S. H. Gove, contractor, is a man of his word. The masons have been at work for three or four days building the inside brick supports of a bridge for the canal. This bridge faces the south entrance, leading from the school grounds proper, to Bay street. With the new school building completed and the City Island Park well on toward the plans of improvement, Daytonians may point with pride to the year's work.

THE CAMDEN HORSE SHOW OPENS

CAMDEN, S. C., March 30—The season of open-air horse shows in the south was inaugurated here today with the opening of the annual exhibition of the Camden Horse Show Association. Show horses from many of the notable stables of the East and South are included in the entries this year and from all indications the show will go on record as the most successful show ever given under the auspices of the association. Judging commences this afternoon and will continue until the close of the exhibition tomorrow.

PORTSMOUTH, Va., March 30—John Parker and William Smith, murderers, awaiting transfer from the Norfolk County jail to the Richmond penitentiary for electrocution, today cut through the bars of the murderer's cage and escaped with another prisoner.

Bloodhounds and a posse are trailing them.

James Smith, a barber, was found with a knife wound through his heart after the escape. It is believed that Smith saw the prisoners escaping and was killed when he attempted to give the alarm.

The prisoners broke through the jail roof and lowered themselves three stories to the ground with ropes made from the bedding. They departed on a night freight train.

WATER METER FOR THE ORGAN OF THE M. E. CHURCH.

TORONTO MALE QUARTET TOMORROW EVENING.

The Toronto Male Quartet, the fourth and last number of the Lyceum Course at the First Baptist Church, will appear at that church tomorrow night.

A good male quartet is always well received and appreciated by the music loving public and the Toronto Quartet is said to be one of the best upon the road. Their voices are all well trained and Chas. W. Daugherty, the manager and second tenor, is said to possess unusual power as a soloist.

Scotch selections in costume and the playing of a novelty instrument, the Maroharp, add variety to the entertainment.

ARKANSAS STATE PRIMARY.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 30—The Democratic campaign in Arkansas closed last night in a lively finish and today primaries are being held throughout the State. Nominations are to be made for governor and other important state officials, county officers and representatives in congress from each of the seven districts. Public interest centers chiefly in the gubernatorial contest in which George W. Donaghy, the present incumbent, is opposed for renomination by Judge C. C. Kavanaugh. The primary is considered equivalent to an election.

WOLTER HELD FOR MURDER.

PROBABLE THAT THE GRAND JURY WILL INDICT HIM THIS AFTERNOON FOR MURDER OF RUTH WHEELER.

NEW YORK, March 30—After an inquest lasting half an hour the coroner, leave tomorrow for Newark, N. J., the box returned a verdict charging Albert Wolter, with murdering Ruth Wheeler and burning the body. The six witnesses were then taken to testify before the grand jury. One of Daytona's crowning glories is her incomparable beach. No one who ever set foot upon its smooth, packed sands; no one who ever pedaled a bicycle over its expanse; no one who ever drove a prancing pair of horses and listened to the popping of their steel shoes upon its asphaltum-like face; no one who ever steered a high-power automobile down the broad stretch of wave-washed and surf-packed sand but realized that it is a world-beater, a world-wonder. Go stand upon this wide speedway and see the happy souls flit by in joyous mood, and answer whether this is not one of the seven modern wonders.

The Placid, Pellucid Halifax River.
Where think you is water with more picturesque surroundings? Nearly a mile wide, fringed with tropical vegetation, artistic cottages with roomy verandas looking out upon her bosom, gamey food fishes in countless numbers beckoning, as it were, to those with rod and reel; her bosom fleck-ed with duck and coot and snowy-winged sea birds, which sit about as if for the sport of bobbing upon the waves; watch that lubberly old white headed pelican pouch a fat mullet, and that fish hawk struggling upward with his floundering load he snatched from the water.

See the beautiful launches, spick and span, their hampers and lockers bulging with refreshments both solid and liquid ready for a cruise upon this beautiful surface. Take out your fiel glass and sweep the river from Ormond bridge to Ponce Park light house, then say whether the Halifax isn't a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and one of the modern wonders.

The Enchantingly Picturesque Ridgewood.
Ridgewood avenue is upon the crest of a broad ridge, straight as the crow flies and the wide-spreading branches of the heavy-trunked live oaks extend their giant arms across the magnificent vista, forming an arch, and from these extended arms great festoons of Spanish moss sway as the trade winds from the tropic seas fan them. Looking straight ahead down this white shell street one has the impression of a fairy path with elfish draperies, but as you move along and cast an eye first to the right and then to the left you see distinguished cottage homes in the most delightful settings.

See the glistening leaf of the grand magnolia which nature has varnished as no artists' brush ever could; and the cabbage palms with their burdens of showy fruit and swaying palms;
see the lovely holly with its exquisite berry; see the climbing vines run riot in the trees; see the cryptogamons forms which gain a foothold on the great oaks and stately palms, and surely you will join in the chorus and say that this is a world wonder for beauty.

Surpassing Beauty of Our Cottage Homes.
No one of Daytona's attractions, perhaps, commands more nearly universal attention and praise than does the artistic cottages. The owners of these charming villas hail from every corner of the country and they bring their own architectural plans and build upon them, and, as the architecture of one section of the country differs from the architecture of another, so do our homes differ in outward appearance and structural beauty from one another. There are no monotonous rows of strikingly similar buildings but the eye, as it sweeps by, is treated to a kaleidoscopic change which keeps the mind wondering,
"What next?"

It is not only the exterior of many of these homes which rivets attention; within they are models of convenience, and the finishing and furnishing give evidence of the elegance and cultivation of those who worked it all out. Indeed, it is the interior arrangement and artistic furnishing and shading, more than the exterior appearance that gives a surpassing charm to Daytona homes. This feature justly merits prominence as another wonder.

Streets and Pavements the Most
and Best.
Why the Architect of the Universe chose to give Daytona the most admirable, the most picturesque natural setting of all the cities of the South is not revealed, but that such is a fact must be apparent to the most superficial observer. With such lavish wealth of natural beauty it became an easy thing for the hand of man to give the finishing touches which have wrought out the colors and outlines of the big picture.

Man did all this in the laying out of the streets with their wide margins of parkage. The entire city becomes a great park, with driveways intersecting, miles upon miles of driveways so good as to attract motorists from all over the continent.

And as for the pavements, pavements that look and act like granite, —where else between the eastern and western seas are so many miles in proportion to inhabitants? The pavement question stands with the street as one of the chief drawing cards. Till some unheard of place reports more and better, Daytona throws down the gauntlet to the world.

Squirrels, Flowers, Birds and Frut.
Whatever oone's shortcomings and however indifferent or even callous one may be to many things, the mere mention of "flowers and Squirrels, birds and fruits" will send a thrill that is reflected in distended pupils and pricked ears.

For every visitor with a spare goober there is a bunny ready to come and accept your gift. He will sit bolt upright and know into the meat, casting furtive, saucy glances at you meanwhile.

Flowers. Usually fresh and blooming the year 'round You are reminded of Goldsmith's couplet where Smiling spring its earliest visit paid
And summer's lingering blossoms are delayed.

In one yard roses of varigated hues predominate; another household has a penchant for the poincetta and the premises are aflame; another is hidden in a jungle of tall cane. Variety is the spice of life and here is where you find it.

The birds flit in, and with their joyous notes help to give fullness and symmetry to the picture.
As for fruits, choice citrus fruits, Daytona yields the palm to none for quality and quantity per acre. There are scores of citrus groves in proximity to the city, branches bending to the earth with their burdens of luscious golden globes, which for beauty, prolificacy and all desirable qualities would truly astonish you.

The Fastest Autos and The Finest Out.

The seventh world wonder, do you ask? Come, whether from Missouri or from Maine, from Kalamazoo or Timbuckto, and you will be "shown." Here is where the world's record for speed is broken with every recurring season. Autos, the biggest, the fastest, and the finest are on daily parad and the big show is as free as the pure artesian water from the thousands of flowing wells. It is a continuous show with constantly shifting scene.

Everything goes, from a 2-horse power, up to a 200-horse power, and all degrees of speed from acanter to a two-mile-a-minute clip. You will probably catch the spirit, when you do the roads and the beach are yours.
The Florida sunshine is free, the balmy ocean breezes are free, the birds and squirrels and flowers are free, the sparkling fountain water is free and you will have to go down into your wallet only for coin for auto, and bed and board.

This is no fanciful picture; it's all here. It is drawing other thousands and holding them enthralled, it will charm and hold you. Come and see.

SEABREEZE and DAYTONA BEACH, two enterprising and progressive towns on the Halifax Peninsula, are geographically one although incorporated as separate municipalities. The towns parallel the peninsula north and south for a distance of from three and one-half to four miles, and extend east and west from the surging seas of the Atlantic Ocean to the Halifax River, the beautiful tide-water stream that sets them apart from Daytona with which they have close communion by means of three bridges, as well as a half-hour ferry service.

Seabreeze and Daytona Beach are essentially summer and winter resorts and are making hundreds of new friends every year among those who desire to escape the discomforting extremes of heat and cold, and their hotels and boarding houses are now receiving splendid patronage from the most discriminating class of tourists.

The mean average temperature, 63 degrees in the summer and 70 degrees in the winter, with an occasional extra rise or drop of a few days' duration, marks this as one of the most healthful locations in any section of the country, north, east, south or west.

The ocean itself, with its marvelous beach, hard as macadam and smooth as a floor, is the greatest attraction, although earth and air and sky seem to have entered into a combination to enhance its every charm. The beach is the famous automobile race course where every world's straightaway record has been made, and all these records it continues to hold without rivalry.

The sand of this famous speedway is composed largely of the shells of the coquina clam, which are about one-half inch long and very thin.
For ages Nature has been rolling them up, washing them back into the surf and pulverizing them. Examined under the microscope each particle is round, unfit for mortar, builders say, because its smoothness prevents its holding together, yet, strange to contemplate, the very moment a wave leaves the wet, apparently soft beach, these round particles settle down into a cement almost as hard as asphalt, beyond the comprehension of one who has not seen it. Repairs are unnecessary, as twice each 24 hours it is entirely rebuilt by the tides.
The beach has a width of 300 to 500 feet, and can be used from two hours after until two hours before high tide, thus giving an average of seven or eight hours for automobiling some part of each day.

Seabreeze and Daytona Beach each have a permanent population of approximately 1500. Sanitary ordinances are strictly enforced, streets and sidewalks are well kept, and new streets are being opened as fast as the increasing population demands. Besides hotels and boarding houses there is ample cottage accommodation for all winter visitors.

Seabreeze contains a handsome opera house and a Congregational Church; at Daytona Beach is a M. E.
Church. An excellent high school is situated near the division line between the two towns. Both towns have enterprising business establishments, as is evidenced by the advertisements on the left and right.

All the attractiveness of Seabreeze applies to Daytona Beach, the two towns being so similarly situated.
The development of Daytona Beach has been fully as phenomenal as its sister on the north, and each year there is a substantial growth. The great sand dunes have been leveled and handsome homes have been built for both winter and all-year-round occupancy. Flowering shrubs have been planted, which are covered with a wealth of bloom both summer and winter.

Work of rebuilding the Clarendon hotel is now in progress. This magnificent fire-proof structure, which is to contain 250 rooms, when completed will be the peer of any hotel in Florida. The site is immediately north of the clubhouse of the Florida East Coast Automobile Association.
The Ocean Pier is a great attraction to fishermen and it is lined summer and winter with enthusiastic disciples of Isak Walton, who find it nothing unusual to land fish weighing several hundred pounds.

NEW SMYRNA is situated fifteen miles south of Daytona and is an ideal spot reached from Daytona by a hard surface road winding through one of the most picturesque parts of Florida.

With its ancient ruins dating back to a time when the history of man runneth not, interlaced with wires of the modern telegraph and telephone, its miles of shell streets as hard and smooth as a floor and over-arched by hoary forest giants that grew in stately grandeur during the lapse of bygone centuries, New Smyrna is truly a place of romance and rest.

All nature here is very inviting to the tourist and pleasure-seeker. Here too is to be found the best fishing and hunting in the State of Florida.

The people are thrifty, the business men enterprising, and all unite in extending the welcome hand of hospitality to strangers. There are five church edifices for white people and an equal number for the colored population; the town has an excellent high school, a splendid public library, and up-to-date business houses.

There are any number of pretty homes for the permanent population, which numbers close to 2,000, and some very fine winter residences. There are good hotels and boarding houses where you can find accommodations to meet your requirements.

Adjoining New Smyrna is as fine a section of vegetable land as can be found anywhere. This land has been divided into small farms which can be bought at reasonable prices. Some of the finest celery grown in the State is raised on this land. All other vegetables grow in abundance, and here, too, is the home of the famous Indian River oranges.

New Smyrna has no bonded indebtedness and the tax levy is low.

A point that no tourist should fail to visit is the ruins of the Old Spanish Mission which stand somber and alone about one and a quarter miles southwest of New Smyrna. A good road leads to the place and the trip can be easily made by an automobile. Silent in the great pine flats by the margin of the forest, is this place of pilgrimage for the pious; this rendezvous for the picnicker. The ruins are extensive, and while there is no authentic history of their origin, it is presumed that the Mission was built by the Franciscans in the days when the once powerful Kingdom of Spain first planted its flag upon what is now American soil. It was built of coquina, the roof being of the same material, cut into thin slabs and covered with cement plaster. Extensive gardens surrounded it, which were enclosed by a stone wall, portions of which still remain. Visitors usually come in parties merry and curious but the spell of the place soon falls upon them and they separate to sit alone, silent and meditative, under the arches or beside the ancient well.

CORONADO
 Is situated on the peninsula opposite New Smyrna and is connected by a good road and bridge over the deep current of Indian River. Here you can put aside your conventional garb, breathe in large and deep the salty tonic of the sea and enjoy yourself to your heart's content with rod and reel in row or sail boat or in the ocean surf a short half-mile away. The great varieties of fish inhabiting the river and lagoon pass through the channel from the sea beneath the bridge. From verandas, upper balconies and windows you behold the magnificent river, the distant lagoons and islands, the forest-covered peninsula and the vast reaches of the Atlantic Ocean.

HAWKS PARK
 A pretty village located along the ridge above the Indian River two and one-half miles south of New Smyrna and connected with fine shell roads. There is the appearance of newness, comfort and seclusion about the place which stamps it as the abode of people who come here to enjoy the blessings of outdoor life away from places where crowds are apt to gather.

ORMOND is five miles north of Daytona, located on the western bank of the Halifax River. The location of the town permits of good drainage and perfect sanitation; the elevation is superb and ideal for winter homes. A wide bridge connects Ormond with Ormond Beach.

Many fine residences are maintained on either side of the river, most of them embellished with sub-tropical flora and shrubbery, besides thrifty orange and other citrus fruit trees.

The town is very cosmopolitan, has an excellent graded school, several churches, a fine public library, up-to-date places of business and comfortable and convenient hotels and boarding houses.

Ormond has many of the Florida attractions—fine fruit, good fishing, excellent automobiling, safe boating, salubrious climate and pleasant walks and drives.

At Ormond Beach is located the large Hotel Ormond, and its lesser sister, Bretton Inn. The former occupies a position overlooking the Halifax River, while the latter has as its outlook the magnificent beach and the broad Atlantic.

The walks in all directions are particularly attractive, and the arbors, shady and inviting spots and romantic nooks are crowded with rustic seats which are mate invitations to enter into the enjoyment thereof.

Besides the broad, smooth ocean beach there are many drives for carriage or automobile—long drives and short drives; drives through groves of golden oranges; drives through dense tropical forests to Spanish ruins; drives to the ancient Causeway built by the slaves of planters of long ago, and drives to the plantations of hospitable settlers, whose places are replete with the interest of Southern fruits and flowers.

One of these interesting plantations is Number Nine, located on the peninsula, five miles north of the Hotel Ormond. Here you see a fine orange grove, together with great varieties of other sub-tropical fruits and flowers.

Five miles further on you come to Moundgrove, one of the finest orange groves in this section of Florida. Moundgrove is on the headwaters of the Halifax River and is amid pretty surroundings. The place is reached by a good road [passing Number Nine] and is a drive all tourists may enjoy.

DELAND, the county seat of Volusia County, is situated 23 miles southwest of Daytona and is reached from the latter city by an excellent hard-surface road recently constructed.

At Deland is located the John B. Stetson University, one of the leading educational institutions of the South. Because of the interest in matters educational Deland is known as "The Athens of Florida."

Stetson University has a faculty of 50 professors and instructors. There are over $400,000 in buildings and equipment; nearly $300,000 endowment; a Carnegie Library alone representing an investment in building, endowment and books, of more than $120,000. The library is the United States Government depository for the State of Florida, and contains over 15,000 volumes. Science Hall, one of the newest of 16 buildings, with its furnishings, represents an outlay of $60,000. Elizabeth Hall is one of the most beautiful college buildings in the South.

The city has a population of about 3,500, with a thickly settled country adjacent. Deland proper is five miles east of the St. Johns River, on the high, rolling pine land of the great "Orange Ridge" of Florida.

The predominating products are oranges and grapefruit, the estimated crop from this vicinity being over 300,000 boxes this year. Grapes, peaches, pears, Japan persimmons, plums, pecans, guavas, strawberries and other fruits are grown in plenty.

In the way of public improvements are many miles of fine shell roads, an excellent high school, electric lights, a system of waterworks that is owned and operated by the city, supplying the purest water at little cost.

Nine houses of worship testify that Deland is a church-going community. Baptists, Episcopalians, Methodists (Northern and Southern), Presbyterians, Christians and Catholics, besides colored Baptists and Methodists, are represented.

The graded school offers a ten years' course, and the building which it occupies is newly furnished throughout, and is one of the most commodious and best equipped public schools in the State.

The trip from Daytona to Deland is made by automobile in a little over an hour, and there are many pretty drives in the vicinity of the county site. A good road leads to DeLeon Springs, five miles, a historic spot, where 60,000 gallons of water bubble from the earth every minute.

From Deland automobiles go south to Osteen, 18 miles, on shell and marl roads; the St. Johns is crossed by ferry near Osteen and cars can then continue to Sanford and Orlando by hard road. There is a shell road from Deland to Orange City, five miles, and a good road from Deland to Lake Helen, a like distance.

Camp Cassadaga, a spiritualistic camp-ground is situated near Lake Helen and at this place several hundred people make winter headquarters. A large lumber mill and the largest brick plant in the South are located at Lake Helen.

ORANGE CITY
 The principal attraction around Orange City is the many handsome golden orange groves. The town is supplied with water said to be the purest in the world, another attraction to visitors. It is at Orange City that passengers over the Florida East Coast Ry. transfer to carriages and drive to Deland. The town is surrounded by land peculiarly adapted to the cultivation of citrus fruits.

NEW BISHOP OF LOUISVILLE

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 30—Prelates and priests from many Roman Catholic dioceses today attended the enthronement of the Rt. Rev. Denis O'Donoghue, of Indianapolis, as Bishop of Louisville, in succession to the late Bishop McClosky. The solemn service was held in the Cathedral of the Assumption, a large edifice which was too small to accommodate all who desired to attend. Bishop O'Donoghue is the fifth bishop of the Louisville diocese. The diocese was established at Dardstown, Wy., in 1808, and was transferred to Louisville in 1841. The first bishop was the Rt. Rev. Benedict Joseph Glagel. Next was the Rt. Rev. Martin John Spalding, who became bishop of Baltimore in 1854. After him came the Rt. Rev. Peter J. LaVail, who was succeeded in 1868 by the Rt. Rev. Wm. George McClosky, who served until his death last September.

Depew, William Marconi and Miss Helen Gould are among the notables who have been invited to attend the dinner and reception at the Hotel Manhattan tonight in honor of Sir Ernest Shackleton, the famous Antarctic explorer. The affair has been arranged by the Transportation Club, whose guests Sir Ernest and Lady Shackleton are during their stay in the metropolis.

THE APPALACHIAN GOOD ROADS MEETING

HENDERSONVILLE, N. C., March 30—To arouse enthusiasm in the work of the Appalachian Good Roads Association, which was organized last October, a meeting of members of the association and others interested in good roads was held here today. Reports of progress were received and discussed and plans considered for the construction of good highways between Charlotte and Knoxville, Greenville and Nashville and Spartanburg and Asheville. It is hoped to complete the building of all these highways during the present year.

NAVY WEDDING IN THE CAPITOL

WASHINGTON, March 30—The presence of many naval officers in full dress uniform gave added brilliancy to the wedding today of Miss Caroline Brownson, daughter of Rear Admiral and Mrs. Willard Brownson, and Lieut. Commander Thomas C. Hart, U. S. N. The wedding took place at noon at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony was performed by Chaplain Clark of the Naval Academy and all of the attendants were naval officers or the wives or daughters of naval officers.

AMERICAN BRIDE FOR GERMAN DIPLOMAT

WASHINGTON, March 30—Another American hostess was added to the diplomatic circle in Washington by the marriage today of Miss Constance Hoyt, daughter of Henry M. Hoyt, counselor of the Department of State, and Mrs. Hoyt, and Baron Ferdinand von Stumm, Second Secretary of the German Embassy. The ceremony was performed at noon at the home of the bride's parents, the Rev. Roland Cotton Smith officiating. The bride's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Philip Hichborn. The bridegroom had his brother, Herbert von Stumm, as his best man.

FOR MISSOURI RIVER IMPROVEMENT.

PIERRE, S. D., March 30—One of the most notable gatherings yet held in the interest of the movement for the improvement of the Missouri river and its navigable tributaries assembled in this city today in response to a call recently issued by the Pierre Board of Trade. Delegates from several States are in attendance, together with several prominent speakers from St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha and other points. The improvement of the Missouri for purposes of navigation, the power possibilities of the waterway and its use in the transportation of coal and other commodities are among the matters to be discussed during the two days' session.

She Was the Ghost.

"A certain lady and her family," says Sir Mount Stuart Grant-Duff in his "Diary," "hired a place in Scotland which was haunted by the ghost of a woman who was to be seen constantly at night wandering through the rooms and passages. When the family arrived the lady was much struck with the place and said, 'I must have been here before. For I know this place so well, only there ought to be two rooms here, and there is only one.'"

"The agent replied that within a few weeks the owner had caused a partition to be taken down and made the two rooms into one. Still the lady was puzzled at her knowledge of the place till she remembered that it was a house she used to go to in her dreams. "Well, some time passed, and the agent was up at the house again, when the lady complained that one part of the contract had not been fulfilled. They had hired a house and a ghost for the summer, and no ghost had she seen. The agent replied: 'Of course not, because you are the ghost. We recognized you the moment we saw you.'"

Why They Were Selected.

It has been recorded that General Henry Knox in 1783 was the "greatest" of eleven distinguished officers of the army, weighing 280 pounds. Noah Brooks in his book entitled "Henry Knox" gives the following incident relating to the general's full habit: With a Captain Sargent he was selected to present the hard case of the starving and naked men at Valley Forge to the attention of a committee of congress. One of the congressmen, wishing to show his wit and sarcasm, said that he had never seen a fatter man than General Knox nor a better dressed man than his associate. Knox managed to keep his temper and remained silent, but his subordinate retorted, "The corps out of respect to congress and themselves have sent as their representatives the only man who had an ounce of superfluous flesh on his body and the only other man who possessed a complete suit of clothes."

Wanted a Pattern.

A ragged Irishman was charged in a London court a short time ago with tendering a counterfeit shilling in payment for a penny loaf.

Though forlorn in aspect, he was not destitute of that shrewdness which is characteristic of his countrymen. He stated that he was sent for the loaf by a person at a public house close by, who gave him the coin to pay for it, and that on discovering it was not good he bought the coin for three half-pence.

The Magistrate—How came you to buy the shilling after you had discovered it was a bad one?

The prisoner, with much apparent gravity, replied: "Sure, then, your honor, I bought it so that if I should happen to have a bad one offered to me I might know it by looking at the one I had with me!" There was a burst of laughter, and the rogue was dismissed with a caution.

When the President Lost His Hat.

The Crystal palace exhibition opened at New York July 15, 1853, was the first affair of this kind in the country for which foreign exhibits were solicited. The "big show" began with a procession, in which President Franklin Pierce, mounted, was a conspicuous feature. The hero of the day rode a mettlesome steed, and while proceeding up Wall street the presidential headgear, a new silk hat of the prevalent style, was incontinently tumbled to the pavement. Another horse recklessly stepped upon the unfortunate tile, crushing it out of the semblance to itself, besmearing it with mud—real Wall street mud. What was left of the misshapen and bedaubed hat was worn by the president, to the great amusement of the spectators, until a substitute could be secured.

A Witty Retort.

One day while dining with the secretary of the admiralty William IV., then heir presumptive to the British crown, said: "When I am king, sir, you shall not be the secretary of the admiralty, I promise you. What do you say to that, eh?" "All I can respond in such case," returned the witty official, "is, 'God save the king!'"—St. Louis Republic.

A Chance For Shelter.

Mr. Mooney disapproved of dueling as set forth and explained by his neighbor, Mr. Baumgarten. "Tis a haythenish, barbarous way o' conductin' a quarrel," said Mr. Mooney, with firmness. "It is mooch like war," said his ponderous friend, "only in war dere is more beoples dakes part. It is no great difference, my friend." "Sure there is, a big difference," said Mr. Mooney. "In war ye can lie in wait or get behind something, man!"

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

HARMONY—HAPPINESS—HEALTH.

And now abideth harmony, happiness, health, these three, but the greatest of these is harmony.

Because—Upon harmony depends your happiness, and upon your happiness depends your health.

If there is discord anywhere in you, you are wasting energy. The more energy you waste the less vitality you have. The less energy you waste the more vitality you have. And with vitality you can throw off almost any disease.

And this is no mere faddism. It is a fact of medical science.

When there is harmony, concord, in mind and body, the process of digestion goes on without friction. The food you eat is assimilated—goes to the right place—and nourishes the cells in body and mind.

But—Introduce discord; indulge in a bad fit of anger or envy or jealousy; agitate your mind to the point of worry. It matters little, then, what you eat. The food does not go to the place and does not build up the cells. It goes into waste. And the waste clogs the system.

What is the matter? Lack of co-operation, harmony. There are variance, strife, discord. In the warring of the members vital force is lost. You are rendered liable to weakness and disease.

And what is true of the digestive is true of the nervous system. Discord, mental or physical, will set your nerves to "jangling like sweet bells out of tune." They will grow ragged and become weak and "jerky" and nag you. The end is prostration.

And so of the circulation of the blood and the many other functions of the body. Harmony is a great physician. Working through happiness, it promotes digestion, thrills the blood with vital energy, steadies the nerves—in short makes you a man alive!

Harmony—happiness—health. "A threefold cord is not easily broken." Therefore harmonize your life.

Allow nothing—least of all the petty little things—to move you from your poise. Happiness and health depend upon it. And the possibility of it lies within your own grasp.

Science will tell you that anger and hatred and jealousy and despair and fear are real poisons. It is a fact, tested in the laboratories, that they distill a deadly toxin in the blood.

On the other hand, the higher emotions, such as love, hope, joy, peace, courage, are real blood elixirs. Harmonize your life.

Fido's Tail a Mystery.

Little Willie was tugging at Fido's tail. "What are you trying to do with the dog?" asked the child's father. "I think his tail is coming off." "Oh, no, Willie. That's impossible. What makes you think so?" "Cause Fido's tail is so loose that it wiggles."—New York Press.

Bright Thought.

"Oh, dear," sighed small Elmer, "I wish I had another pocket!" "You have several now," rejoined his mother. "Why do you want another?" "I've looked through all of them for my knife," explained Elmer, "but couldn't find it. If I had another pocket it might be in that."—Chicago News.

A Calamity.

Tammas (to McTavish, whom he has just pulled out of the water)—Man, Donald, ye eud be lookin' happy! Are ye no' thankful yer life's saved? McTavish (sourly)—I dinna see nae cause to be thankful. The glass o' whisky I had afore I fell intil the water's gotten fair drooned!—London Tit-Bits.

Their Turn Out.

Ella—They had a very smart turnout. Bella—Indeed? Ella—Yes; they were ejected from one of the best hotels in the town.

Quite at Home.

Bacon—And did you feel at home traveling in Russia? Egbert—Oh, quite at home. When the brakemen called out the stations I couldn't understand them any better than I can over here. —Yonkers Statesman.

The Story of a Turtle's Meal.

A butterfly hunter tells the following story of swamp life: "In the water right between my feet was a spotted turtle that had just captured an appetizing but by no means dainty morsel. This was a terrapin-like bug that was more than a mouthful. His body was already out of sight, but clawlike legs protruded from both sides of that isosceles triangle which a turtle's mouth makes when it is closed and waved a frantic farewell to the passing underwater world. The turtle was a long time in masticating his terrapin, but it was a happy time. His whole body blinked contentedly, and he waved his fore legs with a caressing outpush, a motion exactly like that of a child at the breast. Then he wagged his head solemnly from side to side, as a wise turtle might who feels that such good lunches are put up by fate only for the knowing ones of this watery world, and pushed himself halfway under the roots of a tussock for a nap."

Now They Never Speak.

A coolness growing out of the following conversation has sprung up between Jones and Smith: "I had a splendid time last night," said Jones. "I spent the evening at a little social gathering at the Goodman mansion."

"Are the Goodmans nice people?" queried Smith.

"Well, I should say so. They are very aristocratic. To get into their circle one must have either a great deal of money or a great deal of genius."

"You don't tell me so! And you say you were there?"

"Yes."

"Of course."

"And to be invited a man has to have plenty of money or a great deal of genius?"

"Precisely."

"Well, Jones, I am very glad to hear you have become rich all of a sudden. Lend me $5."—London Answers.

It should be up-to-date the same as you would have your clothing up-to-date.

THE DAILY NEWS JOB PRINTING DEPARTMENT

Has just received over one thousand pounds of the most Modern and Pretty faces of Type. This in itself is not so much but our workmen are artists in their line and the combination of Modern Type, First-class Workmanship and Good Paper is what produces

EXCELLENT PRINTING

A new press has also been installed by the Daily News—a Mergenthaler Linotype is also among the new acquisitions to the plant. All this in itself may be of no particular interest to you but it helps bear out the assertion that the Daily News produces the Best Kind of Job Printing. And bear in mind the best kind costs little more than the "botchy" kind

HIS SHADOWER.

By SARAH J. ATWATER.
 [Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.]

In the town of Selkirk during the reign of Henry IV. of Scotland a shoemaker sat working at his bench. From the rear of his shop came a child's cry. The man paused in his work and listened. The child was hushed by its mother, and the shoemaker went on with his work. Presently a woman entered the shop. She was young and handsome.

"I pray you, Alec," she said, "give up this mad freak. We are not strong enough to successfully invade England. Let the king lead an army over the border if he likes and take the consequences which will be sure defeat. But do you stay at home. If you go you may lose your life; if you return our people will revile you for bringing misfortune upon them."

"I think you are wrong, Margaret," replied her husband. "Our people are turning out in great force. I alone am to bring a hundred men to the army of invasion."

"And wreck a hundred families?"

"Scotland will be the gainer."

"Scotland will be the sufferer. I believe you desist."

"I have gone too far to retreat, Margaret. I would be upbraided for a turncoat."

Margaret Hume returned to the dwelling portion of the cottage, but in a moment returned with their baby girl, five months old. Holding the child up to its father, she said:

"If you are killed, Alec, in this war who will keep me and your child from misery?"

The appeal brought tears to the man's eyes. Gladly would he have abandoned his intention, but pride held him from doing so. He would not desert his king and his country in their hour of need.

"Your desire to be thought brave, Alec," cried his wife, made desperate by his fit-ness, "will not supply the child whom you are bound to support with bread or clothing. Honor, forsooth! Here is where honor lies for you--dishonor in deserting your wife and baby!"

The couple parted in anger, Hume to join the force marching to battle.

In the fight that ensued Alexander Hume was in the thick of the battle, performing prodigies of valor. The men he had induced to join in the enterprise and whom he commanded, incited by his example stood by him nobly. One man in leathern doublet and with a small white feather in his helmet, who had come on to the field just as the battle began, took position beside him and fought with equal courage as himself. An English soldier succeeded in getting very close to Hume and was about to plunge his spear between the clasps of his armor when the man with the white feather struck down the enemy.

"Your name?" cried Hume.

"Never mind my name," replied the man who had saved his life.

Wherever Hume went that day he man with the white feather went, protecting him from the many perils that beset him and on many an occasion forestalling an enemy who was about to crush him. At last the scattered army gave way and fled in every direction before the victorious Englishmen. Hume, with the others, escaped from the field and for a time lay concealed to avoid capture. His first thought after emerging from his hiding place was the soldier who had hovered near him. Of every one he met he inquired if he knew of the fate of the man with the white feather. Had he escaped or was his dead body lying on the field of battle? All he could learn was that the shadower had disappeared.

Hume's next thought was for his wife and child. He hurried toward his cottage his mind filled with her prophecies as to the misfortunes the invaders would bring upon Scotland by their rash course and her pleadings for him to take no part in it, reserving his life for her and their child. He would acknowledge her superior judgment, and he would ask her forgiveness. He longed to fold her and their child in a single embrace.

He hoped as he approached his cottage to find her looking for him. She would be at the door or he would find her on the street, coming to meet him. He did not meet her, and she was not at the door of the cottage when he arrived. There was an ominous silence. With a dread he could not account for he lifted the latch and walked in. There was no one in his work room, and no sound came from the rear. Entering there he looked about him. There was little light and he could distinguish no one in the room.

Presently his eyes became used to the darkness, and he distinguished a man sitting in a chair. Going to him, he saw on his head an iron helmet and in the helmet a white feather. Removing the helmet, he recognized the pale face of his wife. Their child was clasped tightly in her arms. She was dead.

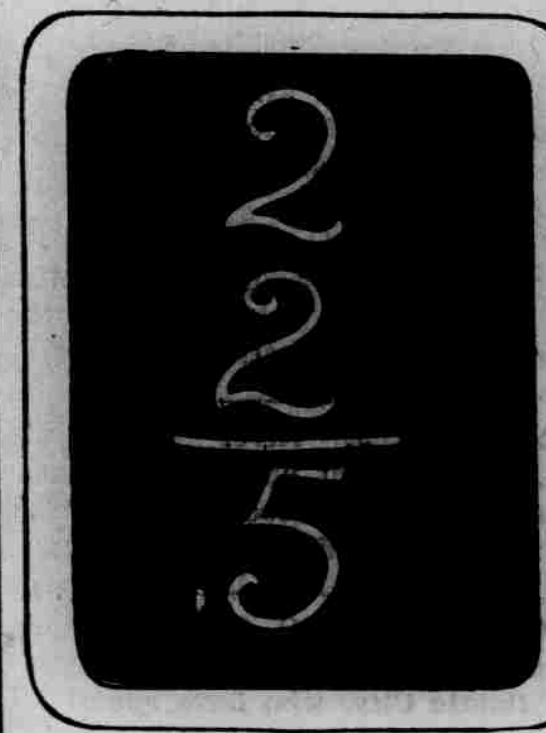

The coat of arms of the town of Selkirk show a woman seated on a tomb on which is placed the Scottish lion. The legend about this heraldic device is the story of Alexander and his wife Margaret Hume. It is historically true that when King James was about to invade England the town clerk of Selkirk, William Brydone, tried his best to aid his sovereign by persuading the Scots to enlist in the royal cause. Among those was a strong, brave young man, a shoemaker, named Alexander Hume of Selkirk, who brought a hundred men to the royal standard. The rest may be legend, but why the woman in the Scotch coat of arms?
